MONEY MARKET.

_MONDAY, April 3-6 P. M.

There was a slight improvement in the stock market day, both in extent of transactions and in quotations Nothing has transpired to give permanency to the advance, and the probability is that it is merely a spasmotustion, which is likely to be lost any moment. It would not surprise us to see prices all down again to-morrow, and the market dull and depressed. At the first board to-day, New York Central bonds advanced 3/2 per cent; Canton Co., &; N. J. Zine, &; Nicaragua Transit, 16; Cumberland Co., 16; N. Y. Central Railroad, 16; Erie Railroad, 14; Harlem, 14; Reading Railroad, 14; Galena and Chicago Railroad, 134. Illinois Central bonds dened % per cent; Delaware and Hudson, %; Florence and Keyport, 54. There were large transactions in Illi-nois Central bonds, principally for cash, and there was a nois Central bonds, principally for cash, and there was a falling off at the close on the opening price. In other railroad bonds there was not much activity, but full prices were obtained. Hudson Railroad was freely offered to day, and there were unusually large sales. The money market is steadily and gradually tightening. The demand for capital appears to increase as the sesson advances, instead of diminishing, as cipated. This may be the result of a contraction of the call loans of the banks, more than from any decrease in their regular line of discounts, and from the increas-ing cautiousness of capitalists, growing out of the posi-tion of political affairs on the other side of the Atlantic. The worst fears are entertained relative to the effect of a general war in Europe upon the commerce and trade of the world. No one seems to have formed an opinion as to the shape in which the effect will first appear, but every day is adding to the apprehensions of those who are deeply involved in commercial operations; and this is the principal cause of the distrust and doubt which fill the public mind. Upon the eve of such events as the great nations of Europe are about entering upon, the afest course is one of inactivity. By withdrawing from nancial operations as much as possible, we can look pon the approaching struggle with less fear and anxiety s to the result. There is very little doubt but that the nancial affairs of the world are upon the eve of a severe vulsion, and no one can tell when the first movement in the made that will strike terror to the mind of every apitalist. A general war in Europe at this period, in the nineteenth century, is a matter of more importance than most people comprehend, and it may lead to consequences fatal for a time at least, to every vital interest of each country engaged in the conflict.

The Mining Board was not particularly active: Ulster was the only stock in which a movement took place; we presume it may be quoted at from 1% to 1%. North Carolina has declined an eighth. In subjoining the bids at the board, we think it but right to say that our attention has been drawn to the fact that many of the bids are lower than those made at the Stock Exchange, the difference being, in some instances, as much as half a dollar a sbare. This is due to the fact that the bulk of operators send in their orders to the Stock Exchange, instead of the Mining Board. The disparity will disappear as the business of the latter increases; meanwhile, we suggest that if stocks can be bought cheaper at the Mining Board than at the Exchange, brokers might make a good thing of an occasional visit to Beaver street.

pany, who is now at the mines, give a flourishing account f matters down there. The company is preparing to erect three Chilian mills, and has steam power enough to work and ore enough to feed all three. At the bottom of all the shafts the appearance of the veins is very promising; in two of them the lode is strongly pyritic. In a etter of 28th he adds:-

I beg leave to say that our average daily yield of gold, with one mill, is quite equal to our expenses. When the erection of the other mill is completed our receipts will emore than double, as the grinding power of the new se is much greater than that of the old; and when the kird one shall be added, the proportionate increase will egreater still. This looks to me very much like making a dividend shortly.

The U.S. Patent Shipbuilding Company advertises elsewhere for subscriptions to their stock, and the sale of their machines. Numerous eminent shipbuilders certify that the machines are able to saw every curve and level required in a ship's frame, with despatch, accuracy and great saving of labor and expense. We presume the company will have no difficulty in attaining the object After the adjournment of the board, the following

The deposits have increased $309,971; circulations $186,420; specie, $181,763; while the discounts have fallen off $147,687. The variations do not amount to much, but they serve as alight indications of the policy immediately in operation. The regular line of discounts of the banks of this city has not varied more than half a million of dollars during the past three weeks. In the same time the amount of specie on hand has not varied four hundred thousand dollars. The circulation has been causily uniform, while the deposits have fluctuated. ter show than those for the week previous. There ha varied four hundred thousand dollars. The circulation has been equally uniform, while the deposits have fluctuated more largely. What contractions and expansion the banks have made in the item of "call loans," is best known to themselves. The changes in that department cause all the changes in the money market, and until the Legislature does something to give the public some insight into the movements in the banks in that particular, no benefit will result from these weekly statements.

The Ocean Bank of Newburyport has declared a dividend of five per cent; Merchants' Bank, four per cent; Mechanics' Bank, three and a half per cent.

The Atlantic Bank of Portland, Me., has declared a semi-annual dividend of four per cent; Canal Bank, four per cent; Cumberland Bank, five per cent; Merchants' Bank, four per cent; Manufacturers' and Traders' Bank, five per cent.

According to this there has been a decrease in the ex cess for the month this year, compared with the corresponding month in 1863, of $3,570,876. This result has been produced by a falling off in the value of imports, and an increase in the value of exports—two very favorable features in the foreign trade.
